

Portiq

Portiq, powered by Reckiapp

One portal for shortlists, job requests, timesheets and invoices.

Portiq gives each client's hiring managers one branded place to review shortlists, raise jobs, approve timesheets and pay invoices. Everything they do is written straight back to Bullhorn. It cuts the email traffic between consultants and clients, and makes the agency easier to buy from than one that has no portal.

What it does

Preview as client

The agency user switches between clients to see exactly what each one sees.

Invite client contact

Invites by work email, with permissions for shortlists, timesheets and invoices set per contact.

Counters

Candidates waiting for feedback, new job requests, timesheets waiting for approval and unpaid invoice value.

Shortlists

Grouped by job, with hiring manager, date sent and how many have been reviewed.

Feedback actions

Interview (passed to Slotra to arrange), Hold, or Reject.

Job requests

The client raises a job with title, type, headcount, location, pay, start date, urgency and description.
